LITTLE GRIP IN SCHOOLS.

High School Attendance is Not Affected Much.

The grip epidemic did not affect the high school very much, judging from the few that were absent on the first day of the new semester yesterday. When the roll was called Monday morning there were only 23 absent and in the afternoon there were 25. Others who did not report had various good alibis.

Principal B. D. Smith said he expected that at least 100 of the 500 in the school would be out on the first day, thinking the epidemic of grip which has been prevalent would affect the attendance. He thought and missed the high school, however.

MORE MONEY NEEDED FOR 1916 BUDGET OF NEW COUNCIL SHOWS

It would have to buy a new addition to his frame house on Pittsburgh street and North alley of brick to conform with the city ordinance. He was told that he would probably be successful though he was referred to Superintendent Pryce of the Department of Public Safety.

Mr. P. Johnston of Cedar avenue city council's aid in contesting a bill with the "Connellsville Water Company." He said he had paid $2.41 and the second and third quarter of 1915 under a flat rate but that for the last quarter his bill was $9.60 under a meter reading, and he for a four-quarter house. He had failed to receive any satisfaction from the company, he said. Connellsville Duggan stated that this bill was not a meter reading, but a flat rate. He also informed council that President Lynn of the water company expected to be here in the next few days for an investigation of things generally.

S. H. Howard was elected a member of the Board of Health to succeed Charles Wehe. He received the vote of all members except Mayor Marietta who voted for the re-election of Mr. Wehe, who has served as a member for two years.

Council will meet again Friday night.

Healthy Old Age Brings Happiness

Simple Remedy Promotes Health by Overcoming Tendency to Constipation.

Advancing years impair the action of the vital organs. Old age should be a period of greatest happiness, but good health is necessary. Constipation should not be tolerated—it is often the direct cause of ill-health. Headache, belching, biliousness, flatulency, drowsiness and other really relieved by the use of a simple, healthy, non-toxic compound. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the best remedy I ever used for constipation and I always have a bottle of it in the house to use when I feel the need of it. It never disappoints.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is a mild laxative preparation in its effect acting on the bowels naturally without straining or other pain or discomfort. For over a quarter of a century it has been the standard household remedy in thousands of homes. Druggists sell it for one cent a bottle. A trial bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin can be obtained free of charge by writing to Dr. W. D. Caldwell, 454 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

Without, so dreary—within, so cheery!

Let us hope each storm-swept passer-by is hurrying on to the haven of a home where wife and the little folks are secure in their radiator-made, cheery climate, controlled by a mere turn of a valve. The poorly-heated house is a half-hearted, dreary place. The only way to flood all rooms with cleanly, wholesome, vital-giving warmth is by an outfit of

AMERICAN & IDEAL RADIATORS & BOILERS

High winds cannot arrest nor chilling cold offset their ample flow of warmth.

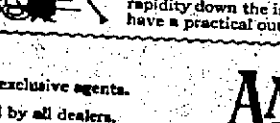

A No. 23 IDEAL Boiler and 240 ft. of 1 1/2 inch pipe used to heat water for the owner's bath. At the time the goods can be bought for any reasonable amount. Price, $1.00 per foot. Includes labor, pipe, valves, fittings, etc., which are according to climate and other conditions.

None of the vital element is taken from the air—no injurious coal-gases, ash-dust, or red-hot surfaces to menace health, injure furnishings, or create a fire risk. Besides, the cleanly radiator heating saves immensely in women's housework.

They reduce the cost of living and better the living healthful, silent, reliable servants of the house owner—they do more for cheer, work-saving and economy than any other material or article you put into your home!

Property thus heated sells quicker or brings 10 to 15% higher rental—a paying investment. Outlasts the building. Being the largest heating manufacturer in each of seven greatest countries of men, and at lowest costs obtainable anywhere.

Don't wait until you build, but put in at once the genuine, enduring foundation of comfort—IDEAL Boilers and AMERICAN Radiators. Five months winter still ahead. Outfit put in without disturbing present heater. Ask for the (free) book of heating facts "Ideal Heating." Put under no obligation to buy. Accept no substitutes!

No exclusive agents.

A REAL FLESH BUILDER FOR THIN PEOPLE

Who Would Increase Weight.
Thin men and women who would like to increase their weight with 10 or 15 pounds of healthy "meat-cholesterol" fat should try Sargol with their meals for a while and note the results. Sargol is a good test worth trying. It weighs yourself and measure yourself. Then note the results. Sargol is a question of how you look or feel or what your friends say and think. The scales and tape measure will tell their own story. Many people, having followed these simple directions, report weight increases of from five to eight pounds with continued gains under further treatment.

Sargol does not of itself make fat, but mixing with your food its special oils to help the digestive organs turn the fat, sugar and starches of what you have eaten into rich, ripe, fat producing nourishment for the easily assimilated, "meat-cholesterol" fat of this nourishment now passes through the body's blood as waste; Sargol is designed to stop the waste and make the fat-producing contents of the body more efficient. A great many people are now developing contented, healthy flesh between their skin and bones. Sargol is non-injurious, pleasant, efficient, and inexpensive. All leading druggists are authorized to sell it in large boxes—form tablets to a package—on a guarantee of weight increase or money back as found in every package—Adv.

TUESDAY EVENING, JAN. 11, 1916.

THE LAW OF THE SEA.

The never-ending and constantly irritating diplomatic negotiations between the United States and foreign countries, chiefly Germany and Austria, in the elaboration of a submarine policy fitted to modern conditions, has been difficult, if not impossible, because up to this time every ocean disaster has apparently presented a different set of conditions. The case of the Persia would seem to hinge upon its armament, if it carried a gun capable of sinking a submarine it was open to submarine attack.

The Johnstown Democrat thinks Great Britain is morally guilty when she fills the hold of a passenger ship with munitions of war, mounts a gun upon the stern and sets her upon her way without a convoy, because in this case Great Britain is in effect, turning over to the United States the task of defending the passengers the task of sailing upon such vessels, and incidentally the vessels and their cargoes. Unless it can be shown that the English Government exercised all reasonable precautions to defend the Persia against attack, she violated every rule of humanity when she loaded the vessel with munitions and placed a gun upon its deck.

This is the extreme pacifist view shared by William Jennings Bryan and the Dove Party, but it must be admitted that Editor Warren Worthington is to some extent justified in the further assertion that the European war has demonstrated our international law to be a mere rope of sand. The Democrat declares that such law consists of a great number of inconsistent precedents of different nations. These precedents were supposed to represent certain privileges granted to the commerce of neutral countries by belligerents. They were at best a vague and inadequate recognition of the maritime rights of those nations that keep the peace by those who break it.

International law is a confused jumble of inconsistent precedents, such as proclamations of belligerents in prize wars, decisions of prize courts, treaties between individual nations and international agreements. Several ineffectual attempts have been made to reduce this confused mass to something resembling natural order. The Declaration of Paris, following the close of the Crimean war, was the first and the Declaration of London the last attempt to accomplish this. In 1909 the British government called the London conference to codify the law of the sea. The leading nations were present, and the Declaration of London was adopted. It was supposed that it was morally binding on all nations that signed it. Hence, neutrals felt that when the war broke out the belligerents would respect the conditions agreed to at the London conference, but it is already painfully apparent that new conditions have created new precedents which must call for further and perhaps radical revision of the Law of the Sea.

With navigation extended under sea and over the conditions of attack and defense have radically changed. How could it be otherwise?

TAX VALUES AND REAL VALUES.

The assessors for the various districts of the county have made their complete return to the commissioners and within a few days the new board will commence a revision of these books. Later, appeals will be heard and the final assessment determined on before the tax millage is fixed for the ensuing fiscal year. Perhaps not for a generation has any board of commissioners been confronted with a more important or difficult task says the Washington Observer, which further says:

"The Observer has already referred to some of the conditions which have arisen since the last triennial assessment was made, which have at least temporarily affected values of certain classes of property. It is conservatively estimated that the owners of at least 10% of all the undeveloped coal lands in the county are in the hands of receivers or in some way financially embarrassed. Of course the coal itself is still there and it is getting more valuable each year, but in the meantime of property the assessors must take into consideration what the present market value is and what changes there may be in the immediate future for its development. Many owners of coal land, who had sold their properties and taken mortgages in part payment on this same realty have been or may be forced to take them back and perhaps hold them for many years to come. Before the coal lands changed hands, from the original owners to the speculators, the assessment was small. It was later increased after being separated from the surface. Now that it has come back to the original owners with the same policy being pursued in fixing the assessment as prevailed before the coal and surface came under different ownerships."

These values are back to the value question of tax values and real values. In the assessment of real estate for the purpose of taxation in this state custom and the law have become a confused jumble in an earnest effort to make the law fit the purpose of justice.

The question of what is taxable value will always be open to argument. When the coal land was in the hands of the farmer and he was getting no income from it save his conservatively unfair share of the unearned increment there was a disposition to value it low for taxable purposes. The only well developed theory was that coal lands under development and producing an income should be taxed at or near full value on the ground that the property was a going proposition which should be able to pay its taxes and other expenses out of its operating income. In the hands of speculators, coal lands have been assessed at low values though there has been a tendency to increase during the past ten years during which period the coal in Washington and Greene counties has practically passed from the farmer to the speculative and speculative interests. It is the speculative interest which now raises the question of excessive valuation.

It is a large question. It reaches far into the ground. Taxation should be equitable and free from oppression, but those in authority cannot extend public charity to the land-poor. On the other hand comes up the question of real value. The value of a thing is not what the owner holds it at; it is not even the price which the public would place upon it; it is what the buyer is willing to pay for it, and in the absence of any buyers it is difficult to determine the real value of real estate.

In hard times and under hard conditions it would seem to be the proper thing to give the owner the benefit of the doubt.

THE PROBE'S THE THING.

The Youngstown riots will be remembered more than mere labor troubles may be found beneath the surface. There was hardly room for differences as to a strike. The mine had been working 15 cents per hour and demanded 25 cents. The company had offered 22 cents which was a fair compromise, considering the wages advanced being offered in other mills and regarded as eminently satisfactory aggregated about 10%.

The offer of the Youngstown employers was nearly 15%, and it was not a final proposition. The outbreak in the meantime was either the drunken frenzy of an unreasoning and ruthless mob precipitated by a thoughtless word or action, or it was part of the plans of foreign governments whose secret service policy has been to cripple manufacturing plants supplying munitions of war to the enemy. The Youngstown probe may bring some of these things to light or it may not.

It is possible that some such foreign influence are busy in this country, but the extent of their influence over foreign workmen is very doubtful. The average American workman of foreign birth is already an American at heart and is considering the possibility of becoming an American citizen, so that his prospective allegiance is not to be tempted by agents from the country he abandoned.

There are, on the other hand, many foreign workers who are intensely loyal to the old country, and would go to any lengths to serve her cause in the new.

The probe's the thing.

The first big coal transaction in Fayette county in the past year or more is a trade, but it is understood to involve $2,000 per acre for the coal.

"Are you tattered with the Gruff Slick?" inquires the Untontown Standard. The Standard is not badly tattered with the Gruff Slick known as county house patronage; but it is willing, O, how willing to be!

"Hold your Greens county coal if you can," is the advice of the Untontown Standard. The question just now is how to raise the taxes.

The latest German drive which is reported to have been quite successful, was in Champagne but the Dutch would have been just as well satisfied had it been in beer.

The health of the public schools will be safe from this time forward. Inspector Wakefield has no vote yet, but she has all the other qualifications, and can do without the vote now that she has the appointment.

The unfilled tonnage of the United States Steel Corporation has seldom been equalled and not often surpassed. This is no time to haggle with labor over its fair share of property and the fact is broadly recognized by Judge Gary and his co-managers.

The Darknell campaign is over and the Darknell has been compelled to let go of the Slick Man for once.

Preparedness is the refrain at Washington, and it has a very full echo in Little Old New York, where the occupants of the tall buildings and the lobster palaces have to think of the possibilities of a bunch of devastating shells landing upon them without notice from somewhere some thirty miles out of sight out there.

The voluntary announcements of advances in wages by the United States Steel Corporation, and other prominent manufacturers are striking instances of the almost complete change in the labor policies of the corporation, and the fact of employment is generally.

William Howard Taft would adorn the Supreme Bench of the United States but his appointment by a Democratic President is a political dream. There are too many Democratic applicants for that job now.

The doctors and undertakers have a grip on the situation.

The new city administration believes in clean sewers. They are the foundation of the public health, and the public health is the public life.

A Untontown paper reports a coal strike. Not enough stock around to go to.

The Pittsburgh coal sale, to the Connelville coal region, has been advanced another peg by the Interstate Commerce Commission. It seems to be coming this way sliding by sliding in the natural course of business.

Matrimony

By GEORGE FITCH.

Author of "An Good Old Sinner."

Matrimony is the United States of Love. It is a union of the settled state, the banded state and the states of matrimony, matrimony, matrimony and many others.

Matrimony is also a very peculiar form of matrimony in which one and one make one and later on nine or ten. An soon as a young man and a young woman find that one and one make one name are quite enough for both of them; they are made one by law and are thereafter called one and one income for the rest of their lives.

Matrimony is the origin of the house, the hall mark of civilization, the hope of the census bureau. Without matrimony man is a useless creature of bearing heirs and women a lonely antique. But there is such a thing as being too enthusiastic about matrimony. It is very easily carried to excess.

To marry two wives without a license is a crime, but to marry two wives with a license is a crime. In unlicensed nations, men frequently have half a dozen wives at the same time and support them in luxury. This is called polygamy. Polygamy is a very peculiar form of matrimony.

When a man marries he swears to love, cherish and protect his wife and to defend her with all his worldly goods. Men are so wicked, however, that a good many of them persistently hold out clear and lunch money. When a woman marries, she swears to love, cherish and protect her husband.

There is such a thing as being too enthusiastic about matrimony. However, the word "obey" is being out of many ceremonies as a dead letter law which should be about dead letter laws thing most other states.

Getting married is a serious matter and you young people, tackle the job with the utmost integrity. A young man who does not earn enough money to keep himself in easy hats will rush boldly and cheerfully into matrimony with a young woman who has never had to wash two consecutive dishes and would risk herself to death with the needle if she tried to darn a sock. Naturally a great many such marriages are failures, but nowadays the motto in matrimony is: "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again."

Matrimony is blessed with children, good home cooking, pleasant home evenings, golden wedding, and is at other times afflicted with green eyes, soggy bread and indigestible tempers. When a selfish person marries, the victim is to be pitied, but when two selfish persons marry each other, great good results. They are not only removed from circulation, but they get what has been coming to them from their youth up.

Union Supply Co. January Bargain Sales

January promises to be a month of fine business; the country has never enjoyed such a wave of genuine prosperity, and conditions will undoubtedly continue good. We must make ready for bigger business—therefore our January Clearance Sales—a thirty-day event. It is to clean out everything—to make ready for the late winter and early spring business. In addition to the cleaning up of odds and ends of undesirable lines, we are also receiving daily new goods such as the weather demands, and they are being sold out at moderate prices. This week we have been running shoe bargains extensively. We will continue next week to offer shoe bargains, and additional bargains in underwear, sweaters, and woolen goods. There are many fashionable scarfs that women and misses are wearing extensively—we are closing them out. The men's and boys' departments offer wonderful bargains in clothing, caps, underwear, etc. It is a genuine clearance—runnag sale of odds and ends, with many new and desirable lines added because there is a demand for them. This sale is the final result of weeks of planning and preparation.

MINOR ACCIDENTS HAPPEN AT THE NEW B. & O. TURNTABLE

Holisting Bucket Bumps a
Colored Laborer but Not Seriously.

PAY DAY FOR WEST END MEN

Eastern Freight Embargo Causing a
Shutting Down of Local Yard Activity.
"Knicker" Hunt's 50th Anniversary of Service Occurred Yesterday.

Two slight accidents occurred at the new turntable in the Baltimore & Ohio yards yesterday afternoon when one negro was hit in the eye with a holisting bucket and another man has his finger crushed. Neither were removed to a hospital, the Baltimore & Ohio first aid team giving all the medical attention that was necessary before the men could be taken to a doctor.

Don Grimm, the negro, was standing in the pit made by the excavation for the new table when the bucket came down, scraping him along the eye. He was not seen by the engineer and the negro did not notice the warning that was given when the bucket began to descend. The cut in the eye was not severe and was easily patched up by the first aid team.

A foreign worker had a finger smashed when a big hammer came down on it. He was holding a chisel for a drill when the hammer missed the chisel and hit him on the finger. The battered member was also fixed up temporarily by the first aid team and it was not necessary to take him to the hospital.

IS A HALF CENTURY MAN.
Conductor Daniel Hunt, better known as "Knicker" Hunt, living in Uniontown, yesterday founded out the fiftieth year of service in the employ of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad. Although he has not been able to work for the past month on account of illness he would have delighted in the half century mark yesterday. He is wearing the insignia on the arm of his blue uniform all the same. He has now about recovered from his grip and which he has been ill and will probably begin to round out his next half century within a few days.

PAY EMPLOYEES TODAY.
The Baltimore & Ohio railroad is paying the West End employees at the freight house today. Although this pay is welcome it is several days earlier than was expected. It was feared that on account of getting an early pay in December, that the thirty pay might be extended a little and it was thought that the road would pay on the 14th. The pay may not be so large this month as it has been in other months as some men have been laid off on account of a slack in the business. The men who are working are doing plenty of it and many in the office are working overtime several nights out of a week. It is sort of an economy system being tried out by the road, to get much work done with as few men as possible.

TRAFFIC SLOWS DOWN.
Traffic out of the Baltimore & Ohio yards is not as heavy now as it formerly was, and there is quite a slump in all shipments probably due to embargoes declared by the road on account of congestions at seaboard points. This congestion is being relieved when the embargoes are lifted business may pick up again but at present it is slack. Some nights, however, there are many trains called out, but this only occurs about two times a week. The car shortage has been overcome and there are plenty of cars with which to fill car orders.

One sign that traffic is not what it was in November and December are five engines lying dead on a sidetrack in the yards here. For a time most of the engines in the roundhouse were now the only ones that are not greatly needed. One of the dead engines is a 4400. If the engines are not all used now it is likely that when the new type engines are brought here there will be fewer than ever called out on the new engines will have much bigger loads than do the present ones.

HEADLIGHT FLASHES.
Robert Ray, a machinist at the Baltimore & Ohio shops, is laying off between Uniontown, Md., and Baltimore, more than 100 cars of grain.

are laying on Western Maryland railroad sidings because of embargoes on grain shipments at Baltimore. The Pennsylvania railroad lines east of Pittsburgh expend about $450,000 a year for lubricating oil. On the entire Pennsylvania system the bill is approximately $100,000 for annual railroad drama. "When Roger's Ball Out."

Aggregate gross earnings of twenty-nine railroads for the fourth week of December were $17,630,347, an increase of $1,424,086.

The Ohio Public Utilities Commission authorized the Ohio Electric Railways Company to operate its cars across the Pennsylvania railroad crossings without a stop.

James McCleary, a bellmaker of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, has returned to work after being off sick during the Christmas holidays.

ROCKWOOD.
ROCKWOOD, Jan. 10.—Miss Nellie Saylor, who has been assistant chief operator of the Rockwood Economy Telephone office for several days, resigned her position, which took effect last Saturday evening.

Rev. I. J. Duke, pastor of the United Brethren Church, departed for New Falls on Monday, where he will spend the next few days. Rev. Paul Mekey, pastor of the United Brethren Church in a series of evangelistic services. Mr. Mekey assisted Rev. Duke about two years ago in a similar capacity.

Editor H. A. Miller of the Somerset County Leader departed Monday for Pittsburgh, where he will spend several days on business. Mr. Miller will also visit his brother-in-law, G. H. Tedrow while in the city.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Lutheran Church was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Dull on Wednesday evening last. After the business session had adjourned the hostess served a very delicious luncheon.

John Vought, who has been the guest of his parents during the holidays, has returned to Pittsburgh, where he will again engage in teaching bookkeeping in the Iron City College.

Miss Susan Lyons of Middlebrook died very suddenly on Monday morning. The funeral services will be held at the Barron Church on Wednesday afternoon, with interment in the Barron cemetery.

Charles Swanson Jr. of Pittsburgh, is the guest of his wife and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Sullivan of Leora avenue, this week. Mrs. Swanson came to Rockwood in advance of her husband during the holidays.

ROCKWOOD, Jan. 10.—Mrs. G. C. Miller has returned home, after spending a few days recently with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Maxwell of Cornopolis, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Wolfersberger have returned home, after spending the holidays with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kling of Reading.

Miss Violet E. King, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. King of Middlebrook township, and Lewis H. Welmer of this place, were married at the parsonage of the New Centerville Lutheran Church by the pastor, Rev. Tashold.

SOISSON THEATRE.

"THE MAN OF SHAME."—The Charles K. Harris Company presents the famous Broadway star, "Wilton Lucknow," in the lavish production in five acts, "The Man of Shame," with Rosemary Theby, Harry C. Meyers and a great cast. It is a play of strong interest and many beautiful characters in the picture is that of the miserly money lender. A typical pawnshop was found on Louis Leopold street, Quebec, which is one of the narrowest streets in America, being only 12 feet wide and about two centuries old. It is inhabited by the townsmen and streetwise of Quebec and is the only section of the city where beauty and harmony do not exist. It is only a few feet from the villainous type. The part is ideally suited to the talents of the great actor and gives him many opportunities to display his wonderful art. Rosemary Theby found the model for the gown in the style of the early '30s, which she wears in "The Man of Shame." In the well-known painting, "Old Man with a Parrot," in the Metropolitan Museum, the picture is a Universal feature, in which Miss Theby stars with Wilton Lucknow.

Helen Holmes, the railroad favorite, appears in the three act railroad drama, "When Roger's Ball Out." It tells an absorbing story of the struggle for the franchise of a new railroad line. Helen Holmes is strong and the scenes replete with excitement. "Uncle Sam at Work" is a series of scenes showing the different departments at Washington, including President Wilson and his cabinet. Tomorrow, the thrilling Western drama, "The Kidnapped Heiress," will be the attraction. Thursday will commence the most exciting of all serials, "The Road to Rome." Both Helen Holmes and May are the stars of this production which is claimed to be the best that the Pathé has put on.

"THE FORBIDDEN ADVENTURE."—Cecil Weatherly, traveling in the Orient with a small caravan meets and falls in love with America, a beautiful Arabian Princess. He is ordered to leave the country, but disobeys and a council of high priests sentences the lovers to be imprisoned in "The City of the Dead," a cavernous pit in the mountains. The thrilling adventure which attend their escape from the plot of this exciting play.

NEW CHALMERS HERE

Our Which Have Caused a Sensation This Year Now on Display.

The new Chalmers, a car which caused a sensation when it was first introduced, has arrived in Connelville. It is now on exhibition at the Connelville Garage, which has the agency for the Chalmers and Saxon cars here in a single room.

The new Chalmers is the lowest priced car which has been put on the market by that established concern, but it is said to be one of the best. It is not only roomy and powerful, but has many points which will appeal to the discriminating motorist.

Manager Val J. Clark of the Connelville Garage was one of the dealers who placed orders for the car at the motor show in Detroit, some weeks ago. The Connelville Garage predicts that it will be able to supply the demand for this car, notwithstanding the fact that it has orders for a greater number than a company ordinarily sells here in a single season.

In the Chalmers and the Saxon cars the garage contends it has kept the complete line of motor vehicles that could be desired.

APPROVE PRYCE'S PLAN

Business Houses Favorable Plans of Structures for Firemen's Use.

Since the announcement in The Courier that an inspection of business places is to be made by the Department of Public Safety in order to furnish the firemen with comprehensive information for use in case of fires, a number of building owners have furnished Superintendent M. B. Pryce with plans giving the data desired. The firemen plan to inspect buildings every 30 days, entering all of the data secured in a card index system, but if the owners co-operate much of the labor attendant upon the inspection will be eliminated.

Mr. Pryce stated today that this evidence of co-operation upon the part of business men is highly gratifying to him.

Councilman M. B. Pryce, James Guyan and Mayor Marlette were out on a tour of inspection on Saturday afternoon, looking over some places where they contemplate making changes. Other inspections are to be made from time to time.

The second meeting of the new body will be held in city hall at 7 o'clock this evening. One of the members stated that from indications a wide range of matters would be taken up. The meetings have been put forward a half hour, so that adjournment may be taken earlier. None of the new members fancy late and late sessions.

The budget for 1916 will be taken up and acted upon, this being required by law at the first meeting of the year.

STEEL STOCK TERMS

Regulations Under Which Employees of U. S. Steel Acquire Their Shares.

The terms of subscription by employees of the United States Steel Corporation and its subsidiaries for 35,000 shares of common stock provided the following rates: Employees receiving $37.50 or less per year, one share; $37.51 to $14,166, 2 shares; $14,167 to $14,833, 3 shares; $14,834 to $15,500, 4 shares; $15,501 to $16,166, 5 shares; $16,167 to $16,833, 6 shares; $16,834 to $17,500, 7 shares; and in like proportion upward.

Payment of subscriptions shall be in monthly installments to be deducted from the salary or wages of the subscriber. The interest will be charged on deferred payments. Until payment of the subscription has been completed, any dividends paid on the stock subscribed for will be credited as part payment. After the stock is issued to the subscriber, dividends will go direct to him.

When the stock is fully paid for, it will be issued in the name of the subscriber. As an inducement for him to keep the company's stock, the company will pay 35 cents for each share for five years, commencing with January, 1917, and those who may not have fully paid their subscription will be credited with this special allowance of 35 cents.

If a subscriber dies or is permanently disabled during the five years, payments will be made to his estate or to him. A pensioner will not be allowed to subscribe, but any subscriber who is subsequently pensioned will be allowed to continue his subscription.

IRON ORE IN 1915

Volume Increases 38 Per Cent Over Previous Year.

The total shipments of iron ore from the mines in the United States in 1915 are estimated by Ernest F. Burchard, of the United States Geological Survey, to have approximated 55,000,000 gross tons, compared with 39,714,230 tons in 1914, an increase of more than 38 per cent. Based on the same price as received in 1914 to about 15,000,000 tons at the close of 1915.

Of this output, 45,318,804 tons were shipped by boats from the Lake Superior district, according to detailed official figures published by the Iron Trade Association. Possibly 1,000,000 tons were shipped by rail. The shipments of iron ore from all the important districts of the United States, except the West, showed increases.

Stocks of iron ore at mines are estimated to have decreased from 14,351,625 gross tons at the close of 1914 to about 15,000,000 tons at the close of 1915.

TESTING OLD HOSE

Fire Chief Will Determine Condition of All His Equipment.

Fire Chief W. E. Dooley had his men testing old hose this morning in order to determine the leaky sections. The hose was taken from reels that are located on the South Side and on the Flatlands. They were stretched along Seventh street on the West Side and water turned into them. The hose was purchased in 1907 and there were several sections that leaked badly.

The same coupling was also tried this morning, in order to see how much throw would be cut down by dividing steam. The coupling is a contrivance into which the hose is thrown a stream of water and when it passes through it is divided making two streams. The throw is cut down between 10 and 15 feet, but by using the three streams are secured from one plug where there are but two connections.

Gradually domestic business began to outstrip war orders in importance so that by December, when the railroads embargoed nearly all steel shipments for export, the mills maintaining their production and shipped correspondingly more material to the domestic trade, which still was not satisfied.

It is probable that of the steel produced by mills in December, fully 80 per cent was for strictly domestic consumption.

At the close of the year 1915 steel prices ranged about $13 a ton higher than at the opening, having passed the high points reached in the years of 1913 and 1909, and being practically on level with the high prices reached in 1907.

THE STEEL MARKET OF THE YEAR 1915 WAS REMARKABLE

In Range, From Low Operation to Feverish Activity at Close.

DOMESTIC OUTSTRIP WAR ORDERS

Marked the Course of the Market; Activity Promised for the New Year; Prices Expected to Rise Under Continued Demand and Buying Pressure.

The year just closed was in many respects the most remarkable the American steel trade ever experienced, says B. E. V. Luty in the Pittsburgh Dispatch. Not only was there so sudden a change from a very low rate of operation to a feverishly active pace, and only in the whole history of the steel market, in 1909, have steel prices advanced so rapidly. In December, 1915, the steel mills were operating at less than 1907 capacity. In August, 1915, nine months later, they were operating at capacity and beginning to fall behind in deliveries. By the end of the year they were snowed under with orders.

Since the great industrial depression of the 90s, during which the change from wrought-iron to mild steel had been made, the steel market had, perhaps, had been five major movements in the steel market, the present one, constituting the sixth, and promising, perhaps, to outrank all of them in duration, as it has already outranked most of them in intensity. In 1909, following the great industrial depression, there was what was called a "boom" and steel prices rose to great heights, but the boom was really largely on paper, the fancy prices being paid only on small lots. The increase in production was not large, as production had broken all records in 1907, and established still higher records in 1908, the difference in 1909 being simply that prices suddenly rose.

From 1901 to the latter part of 1903 there was a very prosperous period, but not marked by sharp price advances. Steel prices in 1904 to 1907 was the greatest period of fully sustained activity the steel trade has yet witnessed. In 1909 there was a moderate rise in prices, following the great market break in February, 1909, and after a long period of sagging prices there was a market rise in 1910. In these two latter years, the steel mills became active, but the periods of full activity lasted but little longer than a few weeks, and the steel industry was very placed under any very great pressure.

The stagnation under which the steel market lay for some time in 1911 until the close of 1914, was the most acute, if not the longest, the steel trade has experienced in recent years. The time of greatest depression, the steel capacity, and the period of lowest prices, fell in December, 1914, and thus the recovery experienced in 1915 appeared not to be a mere temporary relief.

The market in the first quarter of the year represented simply a reaction from the state of depression so severe that it could not last. It was a reaction, the purchases from mills representing less than the actual current consumption, and as steel prices were very low and the financial outlook greatly improved, the tendency among buyers was to take hold. This tendency was encouraged by some moderate advances the mills succeeded in making in prices. At the end of the quarter buyers were showing more confidence, but the market could not continue to improve unless there was the definite support of decidedly increased consumption.

This support was furnished during the second quarter chiefly from two sources, railroad buying and orders for war steel. The latter constituted the main support of the market at this period, but orders for steel cars, which reached a total of 50,000 cars in May and June, had a decidedly stimulating effect.

By the end of June the mills had reached an 80 per cent operation, in the first quarter

Notes for The Beauty Seeker

Beauty is rather an indefinite thing at best. What spells beauty to some eyes means nothing at all to others. Every one seeks it, yet no one can exactly define it. It is, after all, a matter of comparison perhaps, than anything else, for the village belle who is ravishingly lovely in the midst of her plain companions may seem gawky and without charm when placed in the midst of city beauties.

The girl who lives close to nature inherits a large part of Mother Earth's rich dowry of beauty. Nature bestows on the children of the forest all the complexion luscious and hair tones which the beauty doctors prescribe for large fees. The trouble is that city dwellers are so far away from nature's heart that they have no idea of the gifts she is willing to bestow. They depend on cream powder and rouge to do for them what nature would gladly do if they would allow her.

If city women would only forewear the artificialities and rely on nature to supply their needs they would find their complexions rejuvenated. Complexions grow old before their time with the constant application of powders and rouges. To free them from this bondage of cosmetics means to restore natural loveliness again.

Beautiful complexions are only possible where health abounds. A clear skin is, as a rule, the result of good circulation, and in order that the blood may flow freely plenty of outdoor exercise is necessary. Hours in the open air are a part of nature's beauty treatment, which is the reason why the country maid has the advantage of her city sister.

Two of the finest skin tonics in nature's storehouse are rainwater and milk. When the rainy days come, instead of sitting down and bewailing the awful weather, just thank your lucky stars for the splendid tonic you are obtaining free of charge and put out all the receptacles handy to catch as much of it as possible. Keep a big bottle just for this purpose and into it pour the rainwater as you catch it. Use it on your face whenever you wash, and you will notice how it softens and clears the skin. Rainwater is wonderful for the hair also, and one woman with the most exquisite head of hair imaginable declares that she owes it entirely to the fact that she only uses rainwater with which to wash her hair.

Milk is a splendid skin tonic and has the effect of imparting its own color to the skin on which it is used. The only drawback to the constant usage of milk is that it is apt to grow a soft down on some faces. Those who use cold cream with impunity will find that milk has much the same effect, only more so.

THE MODISH SKIRT.

All Correctly Put Up For Mornings in the House Is This Girl.

Blue and green plaid velvet features this skirt, which is belted with plain blue velvet, just as the pockets are outlined with the same material. The hip fullness extends around the back, and with the skirt is worn a modish blouse of fresh colored crepe de chine. Striped velvet, smart corduroys, and contrasting plaids are favorites for this model.

Russian Panache.
Set a sponge with four cups of sour half a compressed yeast cake and milk enough for a stiff dough. Leave over night, and in the morning add three tablespoons of butter, four eggs, two tablespoons of sugar and the grated rind of a lemon. Mix thoroughly. Form into balls with range of marble, about a teaspoonful in the middle. Let rise again and fry in fat.

He that is ungrateful has no gift but one. All other crimes may pass for virtues in him.

GIRLS! HAVE A MASS OF BEAUTIFUL HAIR, SOFT, GLOSSY, WAVY

25-Cent Bottle Destroys Dandruff and Doubles Beauty of Your Hair.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you see new hair fine and downy at first—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance, an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store, or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as any—that it has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—Danderine will surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine—Ad.

VANDERBILT.

VANDERBILT Jan 10—A banquet was given at the Hotel Vanderbilt under the auspices of the Vanderbilt Gun Club on Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock. Covers were laid for eighteen guests as follows: J. C. Moore, J. L. Love, L. L. Dayton, H. D. Shallenberger, Frank Marotti, R. E. McLaughlin, W. A. Cowgrove, Ralph Black, George Clinton, Joseph Nutt, Freeman Cooper, Philip Shallenberger, Cattle Harper, Clarence Murray, J. C. Ducha, Roy McLaughlin, A. S. Pollak and J. W. Stedman. After the dinner a business meeting was held at which a number of new members joined the club. The following officers were elected: President, J. C. Moore; Vice President, L. L. Dayton; Field Captain, J. L. Love; Secretary and Treasurer, W. A. Cowgrove.

Mrs. Swyer and children of Fairchance, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Burt Newmyer.

Miss Mary Nevada McLaughlin spent Sunday with Miss Helen Raymond of Uniontown.

Miss Grace Jacobs visited Mrs. Frank Hitt of Connelville recently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Henderson, Mrs. Mary Henderson and J. H. Henderson visited Mr. and Mrs. George Armstrong of the West Side, Connelville on Sunday.

Mrs. Ernest Irwin has returned to her home in Pittsburg, after visiting her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Roselle for the past week.

Miss Lilburn Reed spent Saturday with Mrs. Joseph Bissell of West Side, Connelville.

Miss Lillian Means will entertain the Episcopate Class of the Methodist Episcopal Church at her home Friday evening, January 14th. All members are urged to be present.

SHOT BY WAITRESS

Get Claimed—Wealthy Man Had Wrangled Her.

By Associated Press.
JOHNS, Ill., Jan. 10.—John Robert, wealthy head of the Robert Weiringer Works here, was shot today at his office by Lillian Piper, a waitress who then shot herself through the head dying soon afterward.

Robert's recovery is doubtful. The young woman claimed she had been wronged by Robert and that he had snubbed her.

A note pinned to her clothing said: "The wages of sin is death, and gave her father's name as William Ogden of Richmond, Va."

Proposed West Va. Developments.
Information has been given out that Le. H. Patterson of Washington, Pa. and associates have secured leases on a large tract of coal land in Hancock county, West Virginia, for the purpose of its development by the construction of a large coking plant to be located on King's creek near Weirton.

PREPAREDNESS

A Good Thing For Individuals as Well as Nations.

A nation in times of peace should prepare to defend itself against a possible war and the individual in times of plenty should prepare a defense against possible want.

That's the best plan, always, if you are not sure it will pay you to buy a typewriter.

We will rent you a Visible Remington or a Visible

Smith Premier

1 Month for $3.00; 3 Months for $7.50

We will rent you an understroke Remington or Smith Premier three months for $5.00.

That three months will be a revelation of how much the typewriter can do for you.

When you have found that typewriting is three times as fast as penwriting; that you can do three times as much writing in a given time, then, of course, you will always want a typewriter.

Right here is the vital point of our offer

If you want to buy at the end of the one month or three months' period, we will credit the money you have paid on the purchase price.

A good, fair offer, isn't it? Then let us send you the machine.

The FIRST Records of

Marimba Music

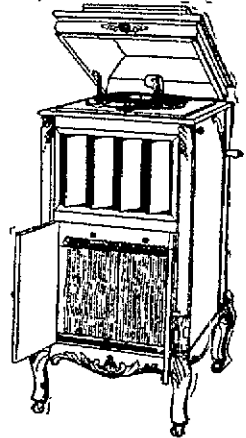

Marimba music is a new sensation to North American ears. Favorite compositions played on the marimba assume a new individuality—the effects obtained are fairly startling.

This little-known Central American instrument was first presented in the United States by the Hurtado Brothers of Guatemala at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, where it speedily became one of the features of the Fair. The Columbia Company is first to present its novel music in record form.

The instrument itself, as pictured here, is over twelve feet long, and has wooden "keys" arranged as in the xylophone. It is played in a manner similar to that of the better-known instrument, but unlike it, each key of the marimba is equipped with a novel "resonator"—a triangular wooden tube that reverberates with tremendous sonority as the key is struck.

Marimba effects are so far outside the musical experience of all but globe-trotters, that in Columbia Double-Disc Records No. A1832 and A1845, old favorites were purposely selected to display the difference of rendering—the first offering Suppe's "Poet and Peasant" and "Pique Dame," the second, Strauss' "Blue Danube Waltz" and "The Three Jewels" two-step of Moreno.

Listen to these records and note the resonant, booming bass harmonies; the sparkling, vivid "trilling" as the scale is sharply ascended; the new impressiveness or gaiety each passage gains in this unique interpretation—and you will feel the thrill of marimba music at its best. Columbia Records A1832 and A1845—65c are genuine musical novelties of extraordinary interest.

I SAW SIX HUNDRED MEN BUY TWENTY-TWO MILLION DOLLARS' WORTH OF CHALMERS CARS IN FORTY MINUTES

The New Six-30 with 3400 r.p.m. Engine at $1050

It was an event—history. Not an ordinary dealers' convention. It was a crowd of six hundred human dynamos—the best lot of merchants I have ever seen assembled under one roof.

Mr. Chalmers called the new car the 3400, because the engine turns at a speed of 3400 revolutions per minute.

It is the fastest engine speed ever developed for stock car use in America.

Some cars tune up 2000; some 2200. Others do only 1400. There are one or two that reach 2600, and one that records 3000.

Such super-engine speed means great power from a small motor—a light-weight chassis, and, all told, a live, peppery car. In other words, it does what the big brute of a car used to do—only this new 3400 Chalmers is a lot faster in acceleration and more alert in every way. It is a six-cylinder car—the Chalmers Six-30.

When he told us the price—$1050, we were dumbfounded. The stampede began. In forty very short minutes I saw 600 men buy $22,000,000 worth of those new 3400 Chalmers.

I bought all they would sell me. I wanted more. We all wanted more. We insisted on more—begged for more.

Some recited census figures—others mentioned the increase in wealth per capita in their communities. But it was no use. The Chalmers people said they simply could not build any more.

They took us, then, from the Convention Hall to another large building. A door was opened.

There before our very eyes stood a phalanx of these bright new Chalmers—not one, not two, but hundreds of them.

It was a shock to our optic nerves and to our imagination—but a pleasant one.

For automobile dealers are used to going down to automobile conventions and taking a look at a pretty new model on a pedestal—then going home and waiting three months or more for deliveries. We certainly never expected to see more than one or two finished cars.

Asking for deliveries of a demonstrator before sixty days in previous years was like asking the Rhode Island Red to lay the Golden Egg.

Somebody got up and said that we would find a name tagged on each car and to go and get ours.

It was like sixty football teams going down the field on the punt.

I found my car. I drove her in the big parade—a $500,000 parade that turned into a $22,000,000 procession for Chalmers. She traveled all over Detroit on a three-mile-an-hour speed; never buckled once; never heated up.

When the parade was over I got her out in the open and stepped on the little button.

I never before saw such acceleration.

I have felt under foot Brussels and Wilton, but never have I felt real Velvet until now.

It was magnificent.

Then I got out and lifted the bonnet and opened the throttle.

I ran her up and up and up, and the faster the little engine sped, the softer and smoother she ran. I understood then why they called her the 3400 Chalmers.

If there was one single throb left in her, my good right ear failed to record the irregularity.

I put the car over some of my own little hurdles and it gave me back the laugh. I could not tease her a bit.

Then I lost no time in getting her down here in the sales-room. For I wanted my own people to see it—you people. I knew you folks here at home would go wild over her the minute you saw her in action.

When I got back to the Chalmers plant, I got hold of Mr. Chalmers, took him aside and asked him how he could do it for $1050.

Now, Mr. Chalmers is a man of action.

When the war came, he figured that the price of materials would rise. So he took advantage of a low market and bought.

If he had waited and built this car of materials purchased in the present market, the chances are his cost experts would have put a list price of $1400 or $1500 on the car.

Mr. Chalmers then explained to me what had been accomplished in the great Chalmers plant in the way of new practices and new operations and new equipment. You know that all Chalmers cars are manufactured—motors, clutches, transmissions, etc., all built from the raw in the great Chalmers shops—not assembled, not bought outside and assembled by Chalmers, but built completely in Chalmers shops.

I went out and looked the plant over and I never stopped until I had been in every one of those twenty-two magnificent buildings. I saw every machine at work. I saw these new cars coming through. Enthusiasm was written large on every mechanic's face. Every man takes a pride in his good work.

I saw machines I never knew existed before. I saw new buildings. I saw great quantities of material piled high all ready for the foundry.

There was hustle in the air. There was prosperity. I caught it in the first building I entered.

Then I wanted to get back and tell you all about this magnificent new 3400 Chalmers—to show it to you—to let you "feel" it.

To see it makes you reach for your check book—quick. It is here now. Come see it.

I am making deliveries in the order of sales.
